

“Molecular and Free Radical Bromination of Organosilicon Hydrides”

Nabil M. K. Eldurini and Richard A. Jackson

25/07/1982

Few four-centre (as opposed to 6-centre) molecular reactions have been studied kinetically in solution: halogenation of organosilicon hydrides appears to follow a molecular route of this type, although considerable polar character may be developed in the transition state.