The Jordanian educational enterprise—history, goals, organization and problems—is described in this study. Although concerned mainly with the state state system of education—its organizational and institutional framework and the major problems of education in Jordan – this dissertation gives due consideration to other cooperating agencies' contributions toward furthering and improving educational opportunities in the country. Special attention was given to the problems of education in the secondary schools of Jordan in this survey.

In the light of educational aims, curriculum practices, and on the basis of the economic situation in Jordan(discussed in this study), a series of proposals for strengthening aspects of public education in Jordan are presented.
