Abstract

The study tries to identify the industrial sector in Jordan through looking at industrial development of different stages of economic development plans, from the beginning of the 1960s and through the lastest fifth five year plan 1993-1997 which last plan will show only the targets and previous plans comparing the targets with achievement for the development of gross national product from the industrial sector and other issues and to suggest some recommendations to rise with important sector for the development of Jordan.